(Version 1.0)

- Data name: NIKL Dialogue Corpus 2024
- Release date
 - (Version 1.0) 2025. 03. 28.
- Data type: Text
- Content
 - A corpus consisting of transcriptions of casual conversations across 16 topics.
 - It contains conversations with a minimum of two speakers and a maximum of four speakers, as well as 40 hours of single-person utterances (monologues), with an average duration of 15 to 20 minutes (1,809 speakers, total 700 hours).
 - The daily conversations were transcribed into Korean, and were transcribed using a combination of verbatim (transcribed as it is actually pronounced, such as when speakers deviate from the standard pronunciation or there are multiple standard pronunciations) and non-verbatim (transcribed according to Korean spelling and standard language rules) methods.
 - The basic unit of speech segmentation and transcription is the sentence.
